
SoCal Dream Welcomes Genesis Ensemble Winter Guard to the family

Contributed by Michael Nash
Thursday, 28 January 2010
Last Updated Thursday, 28 January 2010

The Dream Association & SoCal Dream Drum & Bugle Corps are proud to announce our newest member to the SoCal Dream family--. The Genesis Ensemble Winter Guard, Led by the creative talents of Alex Vasquez and Robert Ramirez will be heading into its second season as an Independent A guard. Their goals are to offer quality instruction, provide a fun learning environment and to encourage individuality and diversity while maintaining a professional competitive mentality.

Alex comes to SoCal Dream with over 10 years of guard performance/instruction experience and has worked with many excellent color guard programs in the Southern California region. Robert was the guard caption head for the DCI open class-finalist Velvet Knights Drum & Bugle Corps in 2009, as well as a clinician for various high school and independent groups. Both are currently working with the La Puente High School marching program. Aligning with Genesis was the logical solution to foster growth and longevity for So Cal Dream and provides a great opportunity for guard enthusiasts from across the Southern California area to perform with an All-Age Drum and Bugle Corps. About Dream Association Dream Association is a non-profit, 501c3 organization, dedicated to bringing together individuals with diverse backgrounds and interest, with a desire to develop, and educate the community on, the art of Field Theater through discipline, teamwork, and the pursuit of competitive performance excellence. Founded in the fall of 2001, our organization provides a structure for those who want to perform in a Drum Corps environment while giving back to their community. The Dream Association of California believes that a group effort, with dedication and hard work, will relate to success.